

Karen S. di Benedetto

Phone (202) 482-4524

E-mail: kdibened@bis.doc.gov

Ms. Karen S. di Benedetto serves as an Export Administration Specialist with the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS), Office of Exporter Services (OEXS), Outreach and Educational Services Division (OESD). As an Export Administration Specialist, she provides guidance to the international trade community on U.S. and foreign export regulatory requirements. Ms. di Benedetto assist in the development, promotion, coordination and implementation of BIS's outreach seminar programs to educate the exporting community on U.S. economic, national security, proliferation and foreign policy concerns.

Previously, Ms. di Benedetto served as a Senior Export Compliance Specialist in the Export Management & Compliance Division (BIS) who reviewed companies' internal control procedures and performed systems reviews of Special Comprehensive License holders in the United States and their consignees worldwide to ensure compliance with the requirements contained in the Export Administration Regulations.

Ms. di Benedetto joined the U.S. Department of Commerce in 1985 and was employed with the International Trade Administration (ITA) until 1988. Since 1988, she has worked in various offices throughout BIS including the Office of Strategic Industries and Economic Security (Export Administration) and the Office of Enforcement Analysis (Office of Export Enforcement). In 1995, she performed export control research and analysis for BIS in Turkey over an extended period of time.

Prior to joining the Department of Commerce in November, 1985, Ms. di Benedetto was employed by the Xerox Corporation (Ann Arbor, Michigan) and Martin Marietta Data Systems (Greenbelt, Maryland) as an Account Executive. She received a B.S. Degree in Business Administration, Michigan State University (1980) and M.A. in International Trade & Foreign Languages, Eastern Michigan University (1983).